Testimonials

“If the purpose of graduate level education is to inspire and open up new ways to reach kids in the class, then these workshops model how graduate courses should be designed. I am revitalized and ready to go back and teach, and after 25 years as a teacher – that is a good sign! It’s amazing what happens when you get 95 intelligent educators together and open up the idea machine.”

Pat Wetzel – Teacher

“I gained so many valuable tools I can take back and use immediately in my classroom. I especially value the different learning styles these activities will address. These workshops are a very valuable professional development experience that is useable and exciting!”

Patti Wolf – Teacher

“These workshops have been a great resource for ideas and projects to use in my classes. The class members were engaged and excited just as I envision my students. There was electricity and synergy created with the activities. Other classes have not nurtured the kind of useful and practical skills and ideas. I want more!”

Patrick Crews – Teacher

“The workshops provided practical activities that I can use in the classroom. Not only would they energize the students in my classroom (along with myself), the activities would promote more chances to learn subject matter in a fun, interesting, and different manner. The ideas are endless!”

Brad Bledsoe – Teacher

“These courses were wonderful! We learned by doing! I’ve never taken a course that gave me so many activities to take back and use in my classroom.”

Beth Westerfield – Teacher

“Excellent resource for classroom and staff ideas that generate movement, excitement, and thinking. The workshops are delivered in the same method of conducting the class for maximum learning. I greatly appreciated attending a workshop where you want to be there each day to learn!”

Dr. Stacey Humbaugh – Superintendent

“I have taken graduate level classes in the past and haven’t gained any relevant classroom knowledge but with the two classes Bill Denney taught, I have several great ideas to take back and use in my classroom to benefit students.”

Jeff Wickersham – Teacher

“For so many courses I’ve taken I was just putting in the time, paying the money, and leaving with little or nothing useful. That wasn’t the case with these courses! I have learned so many valuable concepts and activities to incorporate into my curriculum and I can’t wait to share some of the ideas with fellow teachers.”

Karen Terwiske – Teacher

“These classes, more than any others I have ever taken, gave me effective strategies that are engaging for my students. I have never had so much fun at a class where I was given so many ideas which I know will be employed in my classroom.”

Cynthia Larson – Teacher

“This series of workshops has been the most enlightening educational experience I’ve had in my eleven years in education. I have taken graduate courses in different areas, sat through countless in-service programs and nothing compares to this series of workshops.”

Michael Hamacher – Teacher

“I hold a Masters Degree and have taught for over 15 years, and in all my professional development experiences I have not participated in one more valuable than these workshops.”

Wendy Hamann – Teacher

“These workshops have been more valuable to me than any other re-certification class I’ve taken in my twenty years of teaching.”

Melissa Adelsperger – Teacher

“I have renewed my license at least 2 times and I have never gotten more practical ideas out of a class than these workshops.”

Jennifer Canady – Teacher

“Bill Denney has facilitated the most practical and meaningful workshops I’ve had the pleasure of attending. I’ve learned more in three days to use in my school setting than any full semester course has accomplished.”

Stephen Dorsett – Principal

“I have learned more in this workshop series than previous courses taken at any university.”

Kim Simonson – Principal

“Never in my 3 license renewal requirements have I gained so much practical and relevant information that I can immediately use in my classroom.”

Kathleen Sarles – Teacher

“I have learned more from these two workshops that I can utilize in my classroom than any class I have ever taken at the graduate level.”

Pam Lester – Teacher

“These workshops presented by Bill Denney have been the best hands-on, usable/practical material that I have experienced in my 30 years in education.”

Brock Brown – Teacher

“I am walking away with so many innovative ideas and experiences that can immediately be implemented in my classroom. Bill Denney did an awesome job presenting and organizing the class.”

Lorie Simon – Teacher

“An excellent program for teachers and administrators that provides concrete examples to engage students.”

Dr. Jeff Stephens – Superintendent

“These workshops have been the most beneficial classes I have ever taken. I have come away with so many great ideas to use in my classroom.”

Nikki Hendricks – Teacher

“For the first time in a long time, I’m actually anxious to get back to school to try some of these new activities. I am leaving here with so many ideas and concrete examples. I have never been in a workshop where everyone was excited to come and sorry to leave.”

Kim Schweitzer – Teacher

“These workshops were so good, I would have taken them even without receiving graduate credit! I have a Masters Degree and graduated with Honors. In all my graduate classes, I have never been able to apply as much in my classroom as I will with the strategies I learned in these workshops.”

Jennifer Vincent – Teacher

“These workshops are the best classes I have taken in all my undergraduate and graduate experiences. I have learned more from these workshops than I learned in all 36 credits for my Masters Degree.”

Trina Hanson – Teacher

“A rewarding and most engaging workshop. Bill Denney had about a 100 teachers and administrators using his 8 Elements of Effectiveness to provide participants with strategies to get the tactile and kinesthetic learners moving, feeling, and laughing as he/she learns. The strategies can be applied in classrooms, faculty meetings, and with parents. Fantastic workshop!”

Juan Hernandez – Principal

“I wish more of my teachers and principals were here to experience these workshops.”

Dan DeHaven – Superintendent
